RE: Clima Surround

thanks Phillip I am subscribed to the Youtube channel already so will double check it. I wore my Clima samples last week on the road. I actually made the parts guys touch and feel them on my feet. lol. I can attest to this, I did a 1300 mile loop across Missouri and back. I could "feel" the cool air through the venting holes in the sole more than I could through the cordura mesh! Possibly because the bottom of your foot simply holds more heat so I could feel the air rush in when turning my foot sideways. It rained on and off the whole week and I remained dry and comfy. I have 5 pair of TCX I wear all the time now and can honestly say.... TCX is the MOST COMFORTABLE boot I have ever worn! Right out of the box!

U.S. ISDE Club Riders Announced

Twenty-one riders have been selected to participate as Club Team members representing the United States at the 2019 FIM International Six Days Enduro in Portimao, Portugal, November 11-16.

Qualifying for the Club teams involved two, three-round championships, with western events in California, Idaho and Nevada and eastern events in Mississippi, Michigan and West Virginia.

The top seven riders, plus one senior rider, in each series qualified for the ISDE Club team rosters. Additional Club team riders were chosen by the U.S. ISDE Committee, based on series participation and individual event results.

The event takes place at the Autodromo Internacional do Algarve in southern Portugal for the first time, and our Club team riders' experience racing on a wide range of terrain is sure to help them succeed there."

The qualifying riders will be organized into teams, which will be announced as the event draws closer.

Also competing at the 94th edition of the ISDE will be the U.S. World Trophy Team, the U.S. Junior World Trophy Team, and the U.S. Women's World Trophy Team. Members of those teams will be announced soon. CN

Covington Diagnosed With Epstein-Barr

The mystery had been solved. Ever since the start of the 2019 Lucas Oil Pro Motocross Championship last month, Thomas Covington, the former MX2 Grand Prix racer, has posted less-than-stellar results in the 250MX class in the States. Turns out, the Rockstar Energy Husqvarna Team rider has the dreaded Epstein-Barr virus. He made the announcement via Instagram.

*Sorry I've been silent to everyone as to what's been going on the last few weeks. After seeing the doctor and having tests done this week, I've been diagnosed with Epstein-Barr virus. I've been super tired and lacking strength for around a month now and really hit a wall last weekend in Colorado. That's when I knew something had to be wrong. Doing everything I can now to be back to myself as soon as possible. Thanks to everyone's continued support and a huge thank you to @rockstarhusky for helping me through this. CN

Asburn focused on tuning in consistent times and eliminating mistakes in his run to fourth overall. "I had really good times on the cross (test), but it was a bit of a struggle to find speed on the enduro test," said Asburn. "The enduro test was really slick and I would concentrate each time on improving on certain lines, but I would end up with the exact same times so it was frustrating. But I'm pleased with my finish."

Race Report from Round 5 at Utah Motorsports Campus - MotoAmerica

First, I want to Thank you for your continued support. I have wanted this for as long as I can remember and I am excited to see where this could all lead in the future.

I felt I had a really good first weekend at MotoAmerica with my team, Quarterley Racing On Track Development. I went out for my first practice Saturday morning not really knowing what to expect but I felt the session went well overall. A lot of people have asked how I liked the track, it was good, but it challenged some of my weaknesses and that is something I will continue to work on. Later Saturday morning in qualifying, I qualified 17th which put me on the 6th row for Race 1. I was having issues getting good traction and felt I needed some adjustments to my rear tire and suspension. My team was able to make some changes for me for Race 1 and it definitely helped a lot. Unfortunately, I did not get a good start, so I had to pass quite a few people going into turn 1 and throughout the race. I did have some great battles though and it was a lot of fun. I had worked my way up into 9th position, but in the last turn of the final lap, another racer jacked their brakes resulting in me having to avoid a potential pile up and put me back into 12th place across the finish line – still not bad for my first MotoAmerica Junior Cup Race! In Race 2, the grid positions were based off of the fastest laps in Race 1 which put me on Row 3 in the 9th position for Race 2. Again, I didn't get a good start so I was working my way up through the field when a red flag came out. After the red flag, we did a full race restart. I was able to get a much better start and was in a good spot going into turn 1. I worked my way up through the field and was able to get into 5th place. I was on the tail of the 4th place rider, but I made a mistake in turn 7 and lost him a little bit.

So in all, I feel like it was a successful first race weekend at the professional level. I am really looking forward to Laguna Seca in July.

None of this would be possible without support from people like you, I cannot thank you enough.

I got off to a decent start going into woods third. On the second lap I was running in the second place spot and while going up a hill a rock flew back and hit me nose cause it to start bleeding really bad and swell up where I couldn't breath out of it. I was able to keep pushing through that and still challenge for the lead. At the end of the second lap it started raining and changed the track completely. After some crashes and problems I found myself in the third spot. On the last lap I passed for second place but ended up hitting something in a sloppy section and went down.

I finished 3rd in the XC3 class. I'm not happy with this result and felt like I had the speed to win. We will work on some things and be ready for the next one.

Thank you for all the support!

Round 4.

Event: Cherokee national enduro

Location: Greensboro, GA

Date: 6/9/2019

This weekend was the 4th round of the National enduro series. With a lot of rain in the forecast for Saturday and Sunday it looked to be another mud race.

As we went to the first test of the day the rain began and continued off and on all day. The first 2 tests of the day went okay and had me sitting in the second place spot. In test 3 I was trying to make up time and ended up going down pretty good on a fast off camber down hill and lost a good amount of time. Knowing that anything can happen in these races I put my head down for the last 3 test and tried to ride fast and mistake free. I was able to win the last 2 tests of the day and take the win in the Pro 2 class and 3rd overall!!!

It is awesome to get on the overall podium with the big guys!! I'm happy with my riding just need to work on limiting my mistakes a little more!

Thanks you for the support!

On Day 1 of racing I struggled a bit. I had good times in the enduro test but was losing ground on the cross test. Even with my difficulties on the cross test I finished 2nd on the day and was only 17 seconds off of the leader

On Day 2 of racing I was able to find some better lines in the cross test and better myself there. After the first two test I was sitting second for the day. After the 4th test of the day I was able to get into the lead for the day and cut the gap down to first to 4 seconds. In the last two tests of the day I made some dumb mistakes and ended up staying in the second place position.

For the weekend I was able to finish 2nd in the Pro 2 class and 7th overall.

Snowshoe GNCC is an one of a kind race. With the race being all about time it doesn't matter if you start behind your competitors you just have to beat their lap times. While some of my competitors started on row 4 I started on row 11. On the first lap I was able to ride really well and actually catch 1st place who started on row 4. Sense I had caught him I was already winning the class with adjusted time. But after following him for a bit he made a mistake and I was able to make the pass. After I made the pass I was able to put my head down and ride a smart race. I was able to take the win in the XC3 class and finish 14th overall and I was the only XC3 rider to complete 6 laps on the mountain!

I am very happy with how I rode today as I have never done that well at this event! Thank you for all your support!

Meanwhile, M4 ECSTAR Suzuki's Jake Lewis registered one of his strongest rides of the Superbike season. He ran as part of a tight seven-rider freight train at the front of Saturday's premier-class race aboard his Superbike-spec GSX-R1000 for just over half distance.

At that point, he gradually faded off the fight for the win, but continued on to solidify his position. Lewis was rewarded for his patience, gaining two positions late in the race to take his fourth fifth-place finish of the year.

Roadracing World Young Guns' Alex Dumas was the fastest rider in the solitary Twins Cup practice on Saturday, putting his Suzuki SV650 on top of the charts by a full 1.188 seconds.

Autovest Suzuki's Joseph Blasius impressed as well, running fourth-quickest in the session, ahead of Sunday's qualifying Twins Cup session and race.

Team Hammer closed out the MotoAmerica weekend at Utah Motorsports Campus with a pair of spectacular victories on Sunday.

After finishing second in MotoAmerica Supersport on Saturday, M4 ECSTAR Suzuki's Bobby Fong came through in a huge way in Sunday's rematch. Again, Fong leapt out to the lead on the opening lap, only to be quickly pushed back into second. From that point forward, Fong hounded his leader, applying extreme pressure and constantly reminding his rival that he was there, showing him a wheel in corner after corner while planning a last-lap, last-corner move.

Autovest Suzuki's Joseph Blasius very nearly gave Team Hammer a double podium Twins Cup result. Blasius qualified third and then ran second early in the race, found himself dropped back to fifth, and then charged back into position to fight for the podium at the flag.

He made a bold attempt at third with just over a lap remaining, but encountered an errant lapped rider and couldn't quite hold the position when he changed his line to make a pass, got on a sealer strip, and lost traction while accelerating, doing well to stay on board but allowing his rival to swoop back ahead. Blasius finished in fourth, less than a second off the podium.

Team M4 ECSTAR Suzuki's Jake Lewis enjoyed another solid outing in Sunday's MotoAmerica Superbike race. Lewis was embroiled in a fight for another top-five result when the race was red-flagged with 10 laps remaining. He got away from the restart in sixth to resume that battle, and maintained to finish sixth.
